Merchant Sinfonia is a community orchestra that was founded in 2008 under the supervision of the BBC Scottish Symphony Orchestra. In 2013 the orchestra became independent and is now run by its members. Our musical director Louise Martin is a freelance musician with a background in education, who organises various musical and educational projects. We are a community orchestra open to musicians of all abilities playing orchestral instruments over the age of 18.

We are working on an exciting collaboration with Drake Music Scotland! Watch our website for more details.
